DIVINITY SCHOOL OF HARVARD UNIVERSITY

SUMMER SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

The tenth session of the School will open on Wednesday, July 1, 1908, and continue till July 18. The subject will be

The Relation of Christianity to Other Religions.

Courses of lectures will be given on the origin and development of religion; on the Oriental religions which had the largest influence in the West; on Judaism at the beginning of the Christian era, from which Christianity sprang, and on the religions of the Greek and Roman world in which it spread and grew; on the attitude of the early Church toward other religions, and on the attitude which the modern Church should assume toward the religions of the peoples among whom it seeks to disseminate Christianity; and on the indebtedness of Christianity to other religions, and the bearing of this relation on the question of the absoluteness of Christianity.

The lectures will thus deal not only with phenomena of interest to the historical student but with important practical issues.

The following lecturers will take part in the School:

Professor C. H. TOY, Harvard University, Origin and Development of Religion.

Professor R. W. ROGERS, Drew Theological Seminary, Religion of Babylonia and Assyria.

Professor E. W. HOPKINS, Yale University, Zoroastrianism.

Professor C. R. LANMAN, Harvard University, Buddhism.

Professor W. R. ARNOLD, Andover Theological Seminary, Judaism.

Professor C. H. MOORE, Harvard University, Religions of the Greek and Roman World.

Professor C. C. TORREY, Yale University, Mohammedanism.

Professor W. W. ROCKWELL, Union Theological Seminary, The Early Church and Other Religions.

Rev. ARTHUR S. LLOYD, Secretary of the Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church, The Modern Church and Other Religions.

Professor G. F. MOORE, Harvard University, Influence of Other Religions on Christianity.

For a more detailed announcement of the courses of lectures and for all other information about the School—including reduced rates on railways—application should be made to

New Books of Religious Interest

By Henry S. Nash, Professor of New Testament Interpretation in the Episcopal Theological School at Cambridge.

The Atoning Life To be published by Easter

A profoundly appealing discussion of the inner principles on which the Christian religious life is based. By the author of "Ethics and Revelation," "Genesis of the Social Consciousness."

By President Henry Churchill King, of Oberlin College.

The Seeming Unreality of the Spiritual Life In press

By the author of "Reconstruction in Theology," "Theology and the Social Consciousness," "Rational Living," etc.

By Shailer Mathews, Professor of Historical and Comparative Theology, The University of Chicago.

The Gospel and the Modern Man In press

This volume, in a way, supplements the author's recent work on The Church and the Changing Order. It is, however, more concerned with Christian thought than with social questions. It faces some of the fundamental questions raised by modern thought relative to Christianity, and urges the permanence of the real essentials of the gospel message from the point of view of evolution, biblical criticism, and psychology. Incidentally, it considers the attacks made by Nietzsche and Haeckel upon Christian faith. While it thus deals with fundamental matters of religion, it is written in a popular rather than a technical style.

By the Rev. George Holley Gilbert, D.D.

Interpretation of the Bible

By the author of "The Student's Life of Jesus," "The Student's Life of Paul," etc. It is a comprehensive, fairly complete, though brief history of methods of interpretation from the earliest times to the present. Curiously enough, there has been no such record in English, even in outline, though the far-reaching influence of differences in interpretation is well recognized.

Cloth, 12mo, $1.25 net; by mail, $1.35

By Professor Josiah Royce, of Harvard University, author of
The Conception of God, etc.

The Philosophy of Loyalty In press

This work, a course of lectures delivered before the Lowell Institute last autumn, contains a sketch of a philosophy of the moral life. In this sketch the author offers a somewhat new definition of the term loyalty, and then endeavors to centralize the whole duty of man about the higher type of loyalty which he thus defines.

IMPORTANT NEW BOOKS

Passing Protestantism and Coming Catholicism

By NEWMAN SMYTH, D.D.,
Pastor of First Congregational Church, New Haven

An eloquent and highly suggestive statement of the causes of the failure of Roman Catholicism and Protestantism to meet the needs of the day, and of the strong hopes of a united Christian Church for the near future. $1.00, net; Post-paid, $1.10.

Roman Catholic and Protestant Bibles Compared

Edited by MELANCTHON W. JACOBUS, with notes and bibliography

The three essays awarded the prize offered by Miss Gould on this subject. They are the only popular and accurate presentation of the history of the English Bible, with special reference to the Catholic and revised versions. $1.25, net.

"This work far outranks all others on the subject."—The Outlook.

Ecclesiastes

By PROF. GEORGE A. BARTON, Ph.D.,
Professor of Biblical Literature, Bryn Mawr College, Pa.

A new volume in the International Critical Commentary. An able and scholarly commentary in which, while discussing clearly and impartially the various modern interpretations of the book, Professor Barton quotes his own authoritative and conservative views. The work contains two series of notes, one for ordinary students of the Bible and one for technical scholars. $2.25, net (Postage extra).

Seventeenth Century Men of Latitude

By EDWARD AUGUSTUS GEORGE

Brilliant sketches of the life and writings of a number of men of broad and tolerant views in that most bigoted century. These men are Hales of Eaton, Chillingworth, Browne, Whichcote, Taylor, More, Baxter, and Smith. $1.25, net; Post-paid, $1.35.

A New Dictionary of the Bible

Edited by JAMES HASTINGS, D.D.
Complete in One Volume. With Maps and Illustrations.

The editor of this one-volume dictionary of the Bible, Dr. James Hastings, is the editor of the five-volume dictionary which has been recognized by scholars as the greatest work of its kind ever published. This new book is not in any way an abridgment of the larger dictionary. It is entirely new from cover to cover, and every article has been written especially for this work. The leading scholars of the world have been chosen as the authors of the articles, every one of which is signed, a feature that makes the book more interesting and more authoritative. This will be, for many years to come, the Standard One-Volume Dictionary of the Bible, unapproached in completeness, reliability, and thoroughness. Sold by subscription. Price, $5.00, net.

The Canon and Text of the New Testament

By CASPAR RENÉ GREGORY

"A book with which every Biblical scholar must become familiar."—Congregationalist.
"It is a complete summary of all that modern investigation has discovered."—N. Y. Sun.
